A 17-YEAR-OLD youth blasted his 19-year-old flatmate to death after she took the Christmas decorations down early.

Cayman Wilson argued with Marissa Dikeman (above), who was taking the baubles and tinsel off the tree several days before the traditional 12th Night.

Wilson then fired a shotgun at his pal, killing her instantly. He's been charged with manslaughter.

Brits killed in Aussie copter crash

THE British victims of a mid-air collision between two helicopters on Australia's Gold Coast have been named.

Diane Hughes, 57, and her 65-year-old husband Ron were from Liverpool and had only got married last year. They were on holiday, Queensland Police said.

The pilot and another passenger died in the crash, which happened as one chopper was taking off and the other was landing.

Three people, including two children, were badly injured and are in hospital.

The cause of the crash, which happened near Sea World resort, is not yet known.

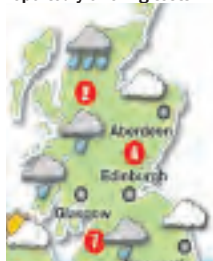

All those killed and critically injured were in the ascending chopper, which crashed within seconds after its main rotor blade struck the cockpit of the other aircraft.

No quarantine for China COVID

TRAVELLERS testing positive for COVID after arriving in the UK from China will not be forced to quarantine, a Cabinet minister said.

Transport Secretary Mark Harper said the move to test those coming into the country on flights from China is about "collecting information" due to the Beijing government refusing to share its own coronavirus data.

Testing will be voluntary for those arriving at Heathrow – the only UK airport with direct flights from China reportedly offering tests.

NHS IN CRISIS AGAIN – LATEST

MINISTERS are under mounting pressure to respond to "intolerable and unsustainable" pressure facing the NHS.

Senior doctors described the NHS as on a knife edge again, with some A&Es once more in a "complete state of crisis".

Labour, as is traditional, criticised the government's management of the health service, while the Liberal Democrats called for Parliament to be recalled early.

Transport Secretary Mark Harper said he recognised staff were under "tremendous pressure".

But he said the government had offered more resources to the NHS and social care to help services cope.

Hospitals are experiencing soaring demand, which experts believe is in part driven by winter illnesses like flu and COVID.

Some 13% of hospital beds in England are filled with people with COVID or flu, NHS England figures showed.

In some places, like Shropshire and Gloucestershire, people are being advised to only visit A&E in extreme circumstances.

In recent days, a number of hospitals have declared critical incidents suggesting they cannot function as usual due to extraordinary pressure.

According to the Royal College of Emergency Medicine, the NHS is facing the worst winter for A&E waits on record.

Labour's shadow health secretary Wes Streeting said it was "completely inexplicable" that no government ministers had "raised their head or shown their face to say exactly what they are doing to grip this crisis".

He claimed the NHS was "actively deterring" people from going to A&E "because they are overwhelmed".

We all made Brexit errors says Irish PM

IRISH Prime Minister Leo Varadkar has said mistakes were made on all sides in the way Brexit was negotiated.

Mr Varadkar said he would be "flexible and reasonable" when attempting to solve issues with the Northern Ireland protocol.

He admitted that "perhaps" the treaty was a "little bit too strict" and that the European Union was willing to make compromises.

Mr Varadkar became PM, or taoiseach, for the second time last month.

The Fine Gael leader has been unpopular with unionists who see him as instrumental in the creation of the contentious protocol.

Asked about this, he said: "I'm sure we've all made mistakes in the handling of Brexit."

"There was no road map, no manual, it wasn't something that we expected would happen and we've all done our best."

He said he was looking forward to travelling to Northern Ireland early in the new year "in an effort to find a solution".

UK economy in 'deep trouble'

BRITAIN will suffer the deepest recession among the world's largest economies in 2023 as it is battered by rising energy bills, high interest rates and falling businesses.

Analysts at insurer Allianz predicted the UK economy will shrink by 0.9 per cent this year compared with a 0.7 per cent decline in Germany, a 0.4 per cent slump in France and a 0.3 per cent shrinkage for the US.

The report also warned firms across Britain and Europe would suffer a 'massive profitability shock' from rising energy bills which would not be fully offset by government support measures.

As a result, Allianz predicted business insolvencies in the UK would rise by 15 per cent in 2023 to 27,100.

Back to work buggered by latest rail stoppage

NEW YEAR ...NEW STRIKE

THE New Year started as the old one ended...with a rail strike.

Yesterday's return to work for millions was bugged by a fresh wave of stoppages by the RMT.

Cities looked like they were back in lockdown after striking rail workers were accused of 'exploiting' the chance to walk out on the first day back at work for millions after the Christmas break in another blow to the economy.

Mick Lynch's RMT union are staging two 48-hour walkouts this week with another starting on Friday.

Drivers in the Aslef union

news@sundaysport.co.uk

will strike on Thursday amid claims ministers are seriously considering offering sweeteners to rail workers including more days off, pension benefits and bonuses to end months of strikes.

Picket lines were mounted outside railway stations across the country in a repeat of what became a familiar sight last year – but they were sparser amid claims support for Lynch is draining away.

Richard Burge, chief executive of the London Chamber of Commerce, said the strikes are a disaster for businesses, who need a good start to 2023 on what will be a very tough year economically.

Mr Burge said owners were 'blaming both' the government and unions for the strikes.

He accused the unions of 'exploiting the situation' after being protected during two years of lockdowns.

Exploiting

He said: "The unions had a frankly light pandemic. They were manning empty trains and empty stations."

"They were all on furlough – nobody lost their jobs. They were not ambulance workers, doctors or nurses and they are now basically exploiting the situation."

Meanwhile over 100 road traffic officers and control operators working for National Highways across England also held a 24-hour stoppage.

The RMT trade union must get off the picket line and 'round the negotiating table', the Transport Secretary said yesterday.

Mark Harper said: "There is a very fair pay offer on the table which has been accepted by two of the trade unions on Network Rail."

"The RMT recommended their members didn't accept it, but actually a third of their members still voted in favour."

TRIBUTES TO RALLY LEGEND BLOCK

FORMER Top Gear presenter James May has remembered his "hilarious days out" with American rally driver Ken Block who died in a snowmobile accident at the age of 55.

Block competed in the World Championship and was named Rally America Rookie of the Year in 2005.

"It's with our deepest regrets that we can confirm that Ken Block passed away in a snowmobile accident today," Block's team Hoonigan Racing said in an Instagram post.

"Ken was a visionary, a pioneer and an icon. And most importantly, a father and husband. He will be incredibly missed."

May was among the famous faces paying tribute to the pro driver on social media.

"RIP Ken Block, with thanks for some hilarious days out. Here's the airfield drifting piece from years back," May tweeted.

Meanwhile, the president of Federation Internationale de l'Automobile (FIA), Mohammed Ben Sulayem, said: "I am deeply saddened to learn of the passing of my friend Ken Block."

"An inspiration for us all and a true gentleman of our sport."

LOVELY Jennifer Lopez showed she's still got it as she went naked for her latest racy photoshoot to promote her skincare line.

The underboob-flashing singer, 53, crossed her arms to cover her modesty as she posed completely nude to plug products from her JLO Beauty range.

The age-defying star wrote on her Instagram post: 'When #JLoBody launched in July with the drop of Booty Balm, we promised you that was just the beginning'.

But when the pics were republished on the website of the Daily Mail, several readers were "gushing" over J-Lo...

Gushing SPUNK, that is. Many posted incredibly sexist comments about the Jenny From The Block singer.

One fiend commented: 'I'd have a go in it', while another wrote, 'Definitely worth a prod.'

A reader from Swansea made the vile suggestion: "Good god, I would smell her farts", while a London reader announced "Nurse...another packet of tissues please."

Another made an even more vile suggestion. Calling himself "Wolfdog" the Mail misogynist leered: "Looks like a plasterer's radio most nights, no doubt".

This revolting allusion suggests that J-Lo enjoys her pretty face being splattered with SPUNK from lucky husband Ben Affleck's COCK.

A friend of the star said: "If only we could go into 2023 without Mail readers fantasising about Jen's pretty face being soaked in semen, or wiping it from her face and licking her spunky fingers, while possibly fingering her feminine moistness with her spare hand."

"It's just not on."

Labour MP leaks list of 20 sex pests

A LABOUR MP shared a list of politicians reputed to be sex pests on a WhatsApp group. Charlotte Nichols, of Warrington North, posted the list of 20 names on a WhatsApp group understood to be used by Labour MPs before deleting it.

Nichols has said that when she arrived in Westminster she was given a "whisper network list" of dozens of politicians to avoid.

She said some MPs were notorious for their "bullying or sexual misconduct", adding: "We all know and nothing is done and they continue to walk around and do their jobs."

While Nichols did not name anyone publicly, the list she circulated on WhatsApp included some politicians who had previously been accused of harassment and at least one prominent Conservative MP who has never been accused of wrongdoing.

Taliban are big fans of sexist Tate

THE hated Taliban are worried about the fate of sexist influencer Andrew Tate as he faces prosecution in Romania for allegedly trafficking women and forcing them to appear in porn videos.

A former beauty queen who's been called "Wifey" by Tate claimed she discussed his arrest and jailing with the Islamic extremists in charge of Afghanistan.

"They are worried about Andrew Tate and they are asking us if he's free yet," former Miss New Jersey Sameera Khan tweeted. "They say westerners need Andrew Tate because we are oppressed by feminists."

Khan, a self-described "anti-woke journalist," later posted a warning she got from Twitter that said unidentified "people from Germany" had filed a complaint about her tweet through the Network Enforcement Act.

"This entire website is filled with pussies," she complained.

Those with levels on the higher end of that range were 50% more likely to show signs of physiological ageing.

Those includes high cholesterol, blood pressure and surging sugar levels along with physical signs such as sunken eyes, cheeks and dry skin.

NETFLIX BOSSES 'HALT FILMING OVER DARK STORYLINE' – REPORT

BRIDGERTON STORM OVER TABOO SEX SCENES

GETTING IT ON: Coughlan and co-star Luke Newton

PHEOBE DYNEVOR

THE filming of Bridgerton's third season was thrown into chaos after Netflix bosses decided a number of the scripts needed to be rewritten because of "dark" sex scenes, it's been sensationally claimed.

The hotly anticipated season of the show, which is set to focus on the budding romance between Colin Bridgerton and Penelope Featherington, played by Derry Girls star Nicola Coughlan.

Yet it's been reported the Netflix production will see filming delayed after executive producer Shonda Rhimes deemed a set of storylines on the show to be 'too dark' for the racy drama.

It is understood there were concerns over a sex plotline in the period drama, following the change in showrunner for the third season after Jess Brownell succeeded Chris Van Dusen.

A source said filming has been 'delayed' as a result of the screenwriter 'not being happy with the direction of it'.

They said: "We have been told that it needs the fun back so there are changes which, of course, means delays.

"One thing is for sure though, the production team want to get it right for Bridgerton fans so they enjoy it as much as they have in the past."

"There are elements Shonda is not happy with so wants to change. Some of it got very dark."

Last night insiders played down talk of a crisis. It's not known what sex acts were involved – though the show has made headlines for its x-rated content.

Exciting

It comes after Coughlan opened up about feeling 'excited and terrified' at the prospect of her character Penelope's impending sex scenes on the show with co-star Luke Newton.

The actress addressed the 'exciting and terrifying' story and intimate scenes, given the nature of the show and novels it is based on.

She said: "When I signed on to this show, because it's based on the books, I knew that her love story was coming at some point, but it felt like a moment in the very distant future."

"I'm really interested in how it's going to play out because she's super serious about her career, but she also wants the love, wants marriage."

Marvel star critical after snow accident

MARVEL movie star Jeremy Renner was in "critical but stable" condition after getting into a bizarre snow plough accident. The actor, who plays Hawkeye in the sci-fi franchise, was injured in Nevada "after experiencing a weather-related accident while ploughing snow," said his spokesman. The 51-year-old actor, also known for his starring role in the telly series The Mayor of Kingstown, was airlifted to a hospital near Reno. Renner has a home close to Reno near Mt. Tahoe. The area, along with much of northern Nevada, was slammed with a winter storm on New Year's Eve that caused 35,000 homes to lose power, with thousands still in the dark the next morning. The actor had been nominated for an Academy Award for his performances in The Hurt Locker in 2008 and The Town in 2010.

Warning over Chinese take away on Moon

NASA'S top boss says the U.S. is in a new space race with China - and warned a Chinese win could result in the country claiming to "own" vast swaths of the moon. NASA administrator Bill Nelson, a former astronaut, warned it is entirely possible China would cordon off the most resource-rich areas of the lunar surface if they establish a presence there first. "It is a fact: we're in a space race," he said. "And it is true that we better watch out they don't get to a place on the moon under the guise of scientific research. "And it is not beyond the realm of possibility that they say, 'Keep out, we're here, this is our territory.'" Nelson pointed out China's aggression in the South China Sea, where they have routinely made claims of sovereignty over areas belonging to other countries.

AS Brits tighten their belts in 2023, home baking is becoming big news right across the country.

We're all watching the pennies, so pricey, store-bought treats may be off the menu for the next few months.

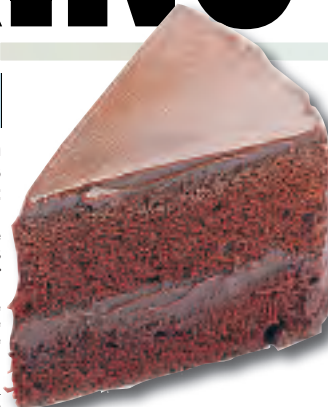

But with a bag of sugar, some flour and a couple of eggs, Brits are able to rustle something up in the kitchen for a fraction of the cost.

We've all been watching Bake-Off and think if those attention seekers can whip up a tasty sponge why can't we?

And it turns out that more than a few famous Sport models are a dab hand in the kitchen, so they've invited us to watch while they make their favourite pies and cakes.

And, for the sake of hygiene, they like to do their whipping and whisking in the buff.

Juggling – a pursuit beloved of hippies and socall dropouts – is often practised by demitramps in London's Covent Garden.

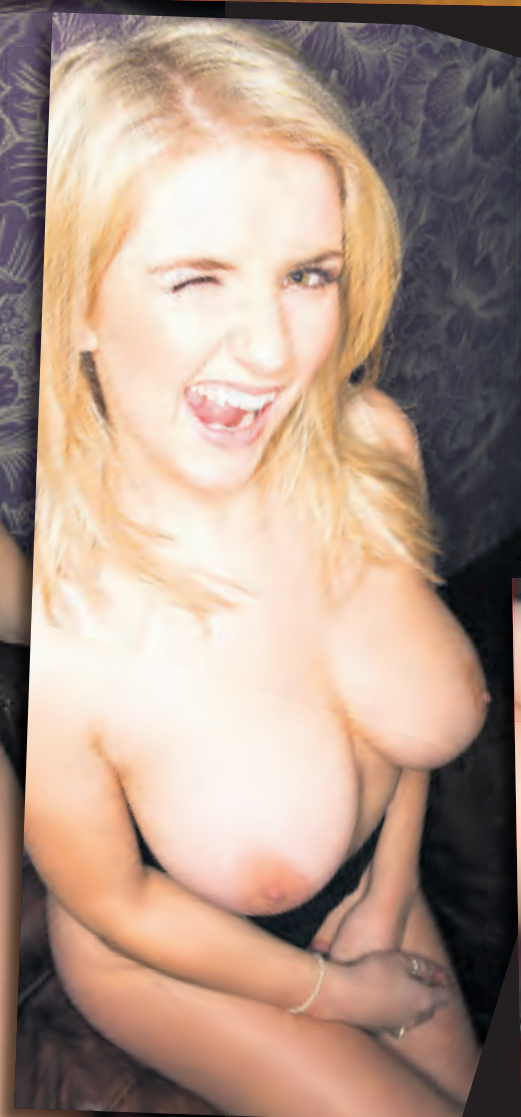

But most mainstream jugglers prefer to see it as a way to boost upper body strength and coordination.

Robyn, who boasts 32F busters, said: "I was given some juggling balls as a present and I thought, 'Oh, like, that's a useful gift'."

"But then I really got into it, and it's made my boobs a lot firmer."

Robyn, of Milton Keynes, added: "I love morning sex. It starts the day off so well and refreshes you even more than a nice cup of tea!"

DRUG NUT KILLS COUSIN WITH BOW & ARROW

DISTRAUGHT:
Cops initially

Trejo's story

By NELSON SAUVIN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MAN high on drugs was arrested for killing his cousin with a bow and arrow!

Carlos Alberto Trejo was caught breaking INTO a police station to admit his bizarre crime.

Trejo admitted he "just woke up" and shot 37-year-old Martin Rodarte in the chest with the weapon at their home.

Trejo made the confession after busting into a police station through a back window at around 1.30am.

When police asked Trejo, 36, what he was doing, he said "I just woke up and shot my friend in the chest...I shot him with an arrow."

Police initially did not believe Trejo's admission to the killing. They had been called to deal with him just two days earlier when they say he admitted to using cocaine and acid.

Trejo told cops on that occasion there was a situation in the apartment which he had to get away from.

Trejo refused to provide further information and officers who tried to call him back said he was "very uncooperative."

Four hours later, police were called

...then breaks INTO cop shop to confess all to a welfare check on Trejo, who had made his way to a bar near his home.

Trejo was allegedly "on acid, hallucinating, and making customers uncomfortable" and police described him as "emotionally distraught."

He was taken to a hospital for evaluation for a possible acid overdose.

Despite not believing Trejo after he broke into the station, officers decided to check his apartment and found the door unlocked.

Inside, they found the body of a man on the bedroom floor with a compound archery bow beside him.

Trejo's girlfriend told cops she had been living in the apartment in Colorado Springs, Colorado, until the two had a "disturbance." She moved out a few weeks before the killing and Rodarte, who she said was Trejo's cousin, moved in.

Trejo is being held in jail.

Two dead after business row

TWO business partners killed each other in a deadly shootout at their garage.

The men, Akeido Bennett, 31, and Xavier Figueroa, 39, shot each other, in Lakeland, Florida.

Bennett died at the scene, while Figueroa tried to leave in his truck, but died later from the gunshot injury.

"This was an avoidable tragedy stemming from a disagreement," said Polk County Sheriff Grady Judd. "We all have a duty to our friends, families, and society to talk things out instead of turning to violence."

"These men would still be alive today, and their families not grieving, had they been able to work out their differences civilly."

ARMED ROBBER'S CHRISTMAS SLIP-UP

A GUNMAN'S attempt to rob a business went very wrong when employees fought him off, sending him slipping on ice and hitting his head on the ground.

Luis Sajbocho-Ordenez, 30, is now facing armed robbery and aggravated assault charges.

The incident, which police likened to a "scene out of 'Home Alone,'" began around 1 a.m. on Christmas morning.

Sajbocho-Ordenez was hiding behind a business near Atlanta, Georgia, and pulled a gun on an employee who walked outside.

The employee got into a physical struggle with the robber, who fired a shot after another worker came out of the building and spooked him.

Sajbocho-Ordenez (left) then tried to flee the scene, but slipped on a frozen patch and hit his head.

Witnesses were able to take two guns away from him until police arrived and took him into custody.

Hired hitman to kill ex's new wife

A WOMAN is behind bars after she tried to hire a hitman to kill her ex's new wife and her young daughter. Marilyn Zhou, 56, was charged with attempted murder and money laundering after the hitman she thought she was speaking to turned out to be an undercover cop. Earlier this month, cops learned Zhou was looking for someone to carry out a murder. She met with the undercover officer in Trenton, New Jersey on Dec. 18, explaining that she wanted her ex-husband's new wife killed. And if the woman's 13-year-old daughter was present at the time of the would-be hit, she should also be killed. Zhou gave the cop photos of the woman she wanted dead and handed over £20,000 in cash, offering to pay another £20,000 once the murder had been carried out.

'I'll be getting down and dirty on a private jet'

My wildest fantasy is shagging on a plane... but not your cheapo economy seat on Ryanair, thank you very much.

"I never understand why people brag about joining the Mile High Club in a stinky, tiny toilet on a regular plane.

"Darling, I'll be getting down and dirty on a private jet. One with a proper lie flat bed.
"Mmm, it would be amazing to get snug in the bed and do it right by the window, looking out to the sunny blue sky and clouds.

Thrill

"Some have full-sized bedrooms, bathrooms and dining rooms.
"But maybe I'd like the smaller jets where the staff could walk in and catch us at it. That would be a thrill.

"Or I'd be giving my fella the best blow job of his life under the dining room table – covered by a table cloth – while the staff serve us.

"Now I just need to find a rich bloke who can whisk me away in the luxury I deserve... and he'd be SO glad he did."

Took bath in wrong house after party

A MAN was caught taking a bath inside a home he broke into after a night of partying.

Police arrested Levi Sholing after receiving a call about a man pounding on the front door with a rock in his hand.

At the home, they found broken glass but no suspect.

A short time later, cops were called back after the homeowner heard noises coming from upstairs.

While searching the home, police found Sholing, who was "inside the master bedroom, inside a running a tub full of warm water."

Police say Sholing was naked and taking a bath.

As he was led out in handcuffs, Sholing told police he got separated from his brother while walking back to their Airbnb rental after partying in downtown Fort Myers, Florida.

Sholing admitted to using a rock to break into the home, but told officers he thought it was the Airbnb he was staying at.

Human skulls discovered in parcel shock

FOUR human skulls were discovered inside a package at an airport that was ready to be sent by courier.

The skulls were found wrapped in aluminium foil inside a cardboard box at Queretaro Airport in central Mexico, said cops.

The package had been sent from the western coastal state of Michoacan - one of the most dangerous parts of a country being ripped apart by violent drug gangs - and was destined for an address in the American state of South Carolina.

Police gave no further details on the age, identity or possible motive for the sending of the human remains.

The transfer of human remains requires a special permit from a competent health authority which was not obtained, it said.

X-rated Japanese drama is hit for Netflix...

TALK about a slow burner...

Japanese sex drama Fishbowl Wives was released on Netflix back in February and it's taken this long to become a hit.

And viewers have been left shocked and thrilled by its x-rated content.

Based on a popular comic by Kurosawa R, the Japanese series follows six couples living in a luxury Tokyo apartment building and their extramarital affairs. Like most releases, the show has accumulated a passionate fanbase and the support continues on social media.

Viewers are calling the show "raucous" and "saucy", with one comparing it to "soft porn".

Another expressed their shock at the show for opening with a sex scene. One fan tweeted surprise at the show's lewdness, writing, "Everyone and their momma is cheating at this point," and encouraging followers to tune in.

The thread was filled with others commenting on the show's explicit nature, with comments such as, "Butt cheeks out before I blink."

Fling

Fishbowl Wives opens with Sakura Hiraga, a housewife who abandoned her dreams after a tragic accident. She meets Haruto and the two have a mutual attraction. She begins to question whether it was a one-time fling.

Don't remember 'Bingo' being in the Bible

BIBLICAL: Reverend Bingo Allison

NEW Year doesn't half bring out the madness in us.

Fresh gym memberships will be bought – and then instantly forgotten about.

Shiny brand-new bicycles will do nothing in the garage for the next twelve months other than gather cobwebs.

Your missus will still “look fat in this?” in six months' time. And you'll still lie through your teeth at her that she doesn't.

You won't take up pottery, or judo, or flower arranging, or horse riding. Or cookery lessons.

You might give up answering the phone or the front door, though.

But one thing that all of us almost certainly are NOT going to sign up for is anything to do with church.

Devotion

Not just constantly missing mass on Sundays, but visiting on hardly any other day, either.

Unsurprisingly, to me at least, less than 50 per cent of British people feel any degree of Christianity at all, according to a recent survey.

Pretty much the only time most of us will see inside the four walls of a building consecrated by God will be on the occasion of a hatch, a match, or a dispatch – a birth, marriage or death.

The reasons for this decline in all things Christianity across the West are wide, varied, and argued over.

Some theologians believe worship has moved too far away from its devotion to Baby Jesus and all His teachings.

Many fear “modern” Christian messages on supposedly controversial subjects like gay marriage, abortion and divorce are driving away the traditionalists.

Politics

While others wonder if, in the case of the Church of England in particular, it is now more about left-wing “progressive” politics than telling the parables of the Lost Samaritan or turning water into wine.

Which brings us nicely to the case of ordained CoE priest Bingo Allison.

‘Bingo’, who currently preaches the good word at a parish in Liverpool, dresses as what we here at Sport Towers mostly define as “a woman”.

‘Bingo’ wears “their” hair long, dons dresses, and wears lots of glittery make-up and lipstick.

“They” are a 36-year-old with three children who believes they were directed by God to discover the “truth” about their gender identity.

Bingo, who defines as gender-queer and uses the pronouns “they/them”, reckons they experienced an epiphany seven years ago while reading a passage from the Old Testament.

Now, I'm not entirely sure which bits of the Old Testament that ‘Bingo’ read, but it doesn't sound like it involved the whole of the very first bit – the book of Genesis.

Genesis

In Genesis, it lays out how the Big Man in the Sky set about setting us up for life on earth.

All it took, a bit like Craig David, was just seven days.

Day one was light. Day two was the atmosphere and the planet we live on.

Day three was dry ground and plants, while day four gave us the sun, moon and stars.

Day six, He finally invented man and woman and all the other land animals.

And then on day seven, He looked at his work, popped a rollie in His gob, and took a whole-day's breather. He would later call the Sabbath.

No mention in there of any Bingos – either those with wings or with or without a full house.

I mean, for God's sake...

Killer shot couple in their sleep

A "COLD-blooded" man killed a sleeping couple, dumped their bodies in a swamp and got his stepdaughter to help cover up the crime.

Todd Jackson, 34 (above), was busted for allegedly breaking into the home of Raymond Cline, 33, and his wife Crystal Ann, 37, and shooting them in the head as they slept.

Police in Polk Co, Florida, were tipped off that Amberlyn Nichols, 19 was trying to sell Raymond Cline's truck for just £150.

Nichols confessed she knew all about the crime and led cops to both bodies, which were decomposing in swampy woods behind the couple's home.

She claimed her stepfather was angry because Raymond Cline, an acquaintance, owed him £23,000.

Jackson was charged with two counts of first-degree murder, while Nichols was charged with one count of accessory and two counts of failure to report a death.

Nichols also faces a charge for dealing in stolen property.

Axe falls for armed doughnut robber

A HATCHET-wielding thief robbed a doughnut shop – making off with a box of treats but no cash.

Christopher James, 40, allegedly barged into a Voodoo Doughnut eatery in Portland, Oregon, carrying an axe.

James jumped over the counter and began stuffing a box with doughnuts, Portland police spokesman Sgt Kevin Allen said.

The bakeshop, which is open around the clock on weekends, confirmed that no-one was injured.

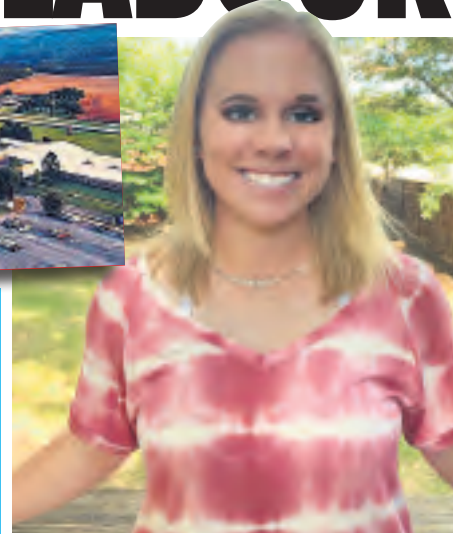

Police caught the suspect red-handed about a block away, eating a doughnut and holding a pink box from the shop.

He ran away, leaving the weapon, but cops chased him for about two blocks and arrested him.

He was booked into the Multnomah Co Detention Center on a robbery charge.

SOFTBALL COACH FACES 30 YEARS HARD LABOUR FOR SEX WITH TEEN

BEAUTY AND BEAST?
Coffey allegedly bonked student from high school (right)

A PRETTY teacher and assistant softball coach has been arrested for allegedly having sex with a teenage student.

Catherine Coffey is accused of being a school employee engaging in a sex act with a student and engaging in sexual contact with a student younger than 19.

The 22-year-old blonde faces 30 YEARS hard labour in a tough jail if she's convicted.

Coffey is accused of having sex with a teen student from Madison County High School in Alabama.

Brent Patterson, a spokesman for the local sheriff's office, said the sexual contact took place between August and December 2019.

Misconduct

Coffey is an assistant softball coach at the high school and a teacher at Madison County Elementary for younger pupils.

She has been placed on administrative leave, according to Tim Hall, a spokesman for Madison County Schools.

Coffey received an Alabama teaching certificate in July 2019, according to online records from the state's Department of Education.

Investigators learned about allegations of sexual misconduct and interviewed the student, Patterson said.

Details were withheld to protect the student's identity.

Hall said the school system is co-operating with the investigation.

"Once our agency received these criminal allegations, a case report was generated and an investigation was conducted," the sheriff's office said.

Coffey has been released on £25,000 bail.

AUSSIE SUPERMODEL TAUNTS STUFFY INSTAGRAM BOSSES

Nipple ban? What nipple ban?

AUSSIE star Catherine 'Cat' McNeil heralded the new year with an X-rated happy snap.

Risking an Instagram ban, the Australian supermodel, 33, exposed her bare breasts while posing in nothing but black bikini bottoms and a chain necklace.

"Happy new year to the world!" the Vogue cover model wrote in her caption.

The snap was a prod at stuffy Instagram bosses who get hot under the collar about pictures of nipples on their social media site.

But Cat's fans rushed to praise her daring image – with one writing: "Happy new year kiddo. May everything sparkle around you." "Live it up, home girl!" another added.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Ashleigh,

MY bird is a real corker, but when we go out together other blokes are always trying to pull her.
Last week I was at a party when I walked in on my boss giving her one from behind!
She was hollering out in ecstasy as he was pumping her really hard and squeezing her massive tits at the same time.
Now I can't get the image of him shagging her out of my head and the upshot is that I'm thinking of dumping her.
Do you think I should?

PG, Cardiff

Ashleigh says...

YES, she obviously can't be trusted.

Dear Ashleigh,

A COUPLE of weeks ago I was out on the town and pulled a very tasty 35-year-old brunette.
She looked terrific in a tight red dress that showed her magnificent cleavage, and after some sexy chat she invited me to her city-centre flat.
She told me she was a wealthy widow and I noticed photos of a tough-looking bastard around the pad, but soon forgot about him when she sucked me off.
I met her a couple of times after that, and the last time she told me to take her up the bum.
We had a top shag and I was planning to see her again when I met a dodgy character in a nightclub.
He warned me that my new squeeze wasn't a widow, but the wife of a local gangster – an 18-stone brute due out of jail in a few days.
His nickname is "Blowtorch", because that's what he uses on people.
Now I'm shitting myself and I'm planning to leave the country.
Should I tell my family?

DG, Cambs

Ashleigh says...

INDEED – get packing!

A shoulder to cry on ends in lesbo romp!

Dear Ashleigh,

ME and my best friend have been pals for 14 years but I never knew she fancied women until we ended up having sex together.
It happened after my boyfriend dumped me and I went round to her house for sympathy and support.
As soon as she answered the door I burst into tears.
She sat me on the sofa, got out the vodka and we spent the next hour drinking and talking about what bastards men are.
I told her that I felt ugly, but she told me she thought I was gorgeous and that I really turned her on.
I was astonished and then shocked when she kissed me on the mouth.
My head was spinning as she said we would be more comfortable in the bedroom.

She slipped her fingers inside my panties and explored, before pushing me back on the bed and buried her face between my thighs before giving me the most amazing licking out.
When she kissed me again I felt the overwhelming need to go down on her and I lapped greedily at her pussy until she climaxed.
Afterwards I was pretty exhausted but so satisfied and we fell asleep together.
The next morning I woke up before my friend, felt embarrassed and left.
I don't want a lesbian affair and I haven't spoken to her since.
Now I'm wondering if we can still be friends.

SR, East Sussex

Ashleigh says...

YES – friends with benefits!

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

I'm left so sexhausted by boss's nympho wife

Dear Ashleigh,

I AM a 20-year-old lad and I have started an affair with the 42-year-old wife of my gaffer.

We got talking at a works party and she confessed that her marriage was going through a rocky patch. She seemed to cheer up when I asked her for a dance and I felt my dick tingle when I held her close. Two days later she phoned saying her hubby was away on business and would I like to call round to her house. When I arrived she was wearing a tight, low-cut top and a slit skirt and looked totally shaggable. She opened a bottle of bubbly, and within five minutes we were snogging hungrily on the sofa.

Moist

I ran my hand up her thigh and was soon massaging her moist fanny. The foreplay drove her crazy and she tore off my clothes, peeled off her dress and got on all-fours on the fur rug. She presented her backside to me and ordered me to give her a vigorous doggy-style shafting. I was only too happy to nail her and brought her to orgasm twice in rapid succession before I withdrew. But she still wasn't satisfied and sucked my cock until it was hard again before telling me to plunge it inside her again. After 30 minutes of pumping I was knackered, but she seemed like she could go on forever.

When I left she promised me another session soon. But I am not sure I can stand the pace, and I am also worried that I'll get sacked if my boss finds out. What should I do?

CH, South Yorks

Ashleigh says...

YOU are skating on thin ice. Only go back for seconds if you have another job lined up!

Dear Ashleigh,

I HAVE been with my boyfriend for two months. We are the same age – 25 – and he's the best shag I have had in my life.

He is really filthy and gives me a good seeing-to as and when I need it.

The problem is when I am giving him oral sex he forces my head onto his manhood.

This I don't mind, but he really pulls my hair and, to put it bluntly, it really hurts.

I don't want him to think I am a prude so just go along with it, but if he continues then I don't think I can be with him any more as the pain is just too much.

How do I tell him?

BN, email

Ashleigh says...

THIS is 2021, and you should never do anything you don't want to do in bed – or anywhere else. Tell him you don't enjoy what he's doing and ask him to stop. If he carries on he has no respect for you, so dump him!

Dear Ashleigh,

Cash-for-gash stripper fun

Dear Ashleigh,

AT the end of a boozy night on the town, me and a couple of mates tried it on with two strippers. They told us that they'd give us a blowjob for £30 and a shag for a £50.

Both then stripped off and I got my knob out and watched as one sucked me off while the other was taken from behind while giving a blowjob and a handjob.

I was just about to come when the bird blowing me got off her knees and bent over the pool table and I sent my lovejuice into her.

I then went over to her mate and for my tenner I had her in both holes.

Lesbo

The girls each made £200 quid and I invited them round to my place a few days later.

In my room I set my mobile phone and filmed them having a lesbo romp.

Then they both sucked me off, before I came all over their massive tits.

I then had sex with both of them.

I paid them £150 each and they said in future they'll only charge £100 each for a threesome.

I think it's a bargain. What do you reckon?

DA, email

Ashleigh says...

IT sounds like a good deal to me.

Ashleigh says...

WARN him to back off or you'll let it be known that he's a secret wanker.

The guy sounds like an absolute jerk – just ignore him if he ever threatens you like this again.

#HOT'N'HORNY

PATTY Michova reckons she's got the world's best BREASTS!

The top-heavy 34F wonder went under the knife three years ago to get a truly mouthwatering pair.

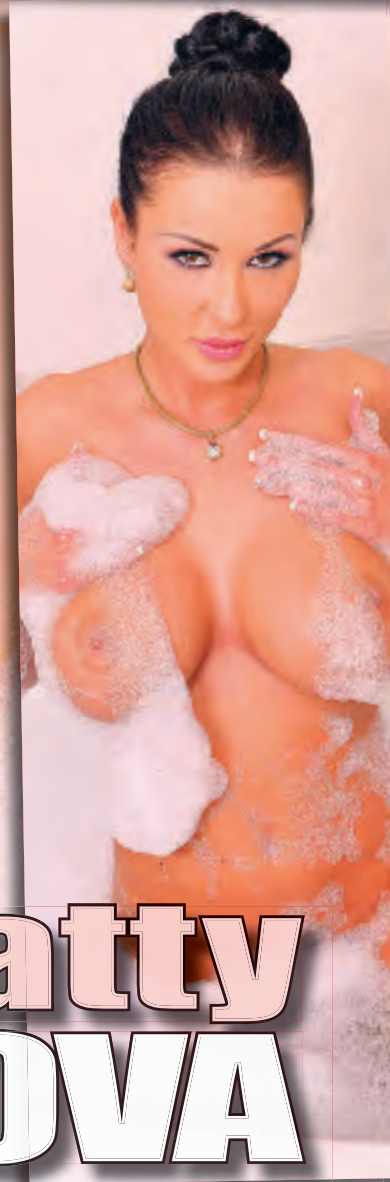

But the brunette beauty says most folk are convinced that she's all-natural because her bouncy charms are so eye-poppingly gorgeous.

The Slovak stunna, who now lives in north London, said: "I get asked the question all the time, 'So... are your lovely boobs real?'"

"And I take that as a huge compliment because very few people can tell that they are actually fake."

She added: "My breasts feel wonderful, too, and I've had no complaints from any male friends in the bedroom."

Patty likes anal and DP. And spunk. She really likes spunk.

ALWAYS HOME OF TOPLESS BABES

DRNY

GORGEOUS Lori Buckby is desperate for a man who'll let her cook for him!

The 34C beauty says her last fella was a chef who hated her cooking and did everything in the kitchen himself.

Now the Leicester stunna wants a man who will let her treat him in the kitchen – and then reward her in the bedroom.

She said: "I love cooking and treating my man, but my last fella was a chef so my cooking just didn't measure up to his high standards.

"I'm good though, and my next man will get some great meals. My specialities are cottage pie and chicken curry.

"And after I've slaved in the kitchen I'll want some good rewards for my efforts in the bedroom!"

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

LILY RAMON

DOG walker Frank Hamworth begged the Midweek Sport for a boobs-out photo of curvy Lily Ramon.

Frank, 54, who owns his dog care business in Sunderland, wrote in saying he was desperate to see Lily's 34Ds.

He said: "I look after dogs all day and I see plenty of them out and about, I want a real woman to look at when I'm done for the day."

"Can I have a topless picture? Cheers!"

MARIA WHITTAKER

CARE assistant Oliver Farrow can't get enough of glamour superstar Maria Whittaker.

Oliver, 31, from Blackburn, emailed in asking for his own topless snap of Cockney honey Maria after years of seeing her boobs in the Sport.

He said: "We were doing our rounds the other day, cleaning folk up and giving them their meals and one of the fellas had a Sport."

"He gave it to me and that night I had a great time ogling her boobs – but now I want my own photo of Maria's 32Ds."

SIAN ADEY JONES

WANNABE rocker Grant Johnson has his eyes set on the sex, drugs, and rock 'n' roll lifestyle and reckons Sian Adey Jones would be the perfect girl for him.

Grant, 28, is a drummer in a rock band who regularly plays gigs in pubs and clubs around Wolverhampton.

And he said 36D Welsh stunna Sian would have been an ideal roadie.

He said: "I know she's now a bit too old for life on the road, but Sian looks like she could be proper naughty – those eyes, the blonde hair, not to mention those perfect boobs!"

SPORT STARTS HERE WITH RACING

Star Guest has too much class

STAR GUEST can go one better than on debut in the Try Our New Price Boost At Unibet Fillies' Novice Stakes at Kempton.

Sent off favourite for her first outing at Lingfield last month, Charlie Appleby's regally-bred type went down only narrowly to stablemate Glory Lily, who got up in the final strides. It was also a landmark winner for Appleby, his 1,000th as a trainer.

By champion sire Dubawi out of a Group Two winner trained by Andre Fabre in Usherette, Star Guest will be a valuable proposition if she can gain a win.

In fact, she did very little wrong at Lingfield and with normal improvement sets a very high standard for the newcomers – some of whom admittedly look potentially smart on paper – to aim at.

Tom Marquand and Mick Appleby are a potent combination and they team up with Sicario in the Racing TV Classified Stakes.

A consistent type, he is now eight but has only been out of the first three once since joining Appleby from Mark McNiff in Ireland.

The handicapper seemingly

By MIKE FRANCIS

has him exactly where he wants him but Marquand may just make a little bit of difference on board for the first time.

Kevin Stott is having a great time of it this winter and he looks to have a very strong chance at Newcastle with Quercus Robur in the BetUK Over 40,000 Live Streamed Races Handicap.

The four-year-old runs in the Lady Buttons colours and is trained by Adam Nicol, the former jockey of Phil Kirby's talented and versatile mare.

Nicol has proved in his short time training that he is quite a canny operator, and he places his horses extremely well.

Quercus Robur was picked up for 26,000 guineas having won for Richard Fahey and looks just the type with which Nicol should have some fun with.

Later on the card Stott rides Going Underground for Wilf Storey in the Spreadex Sports £300 Spread Betting Cashback Handicap and he looks sure to go close.

A winner over this course and distance in October, he has been third the last twice and most recently looked a little unfortunate.

David Simcock has a decent strike-rate at Newcastle and his First Dynasty would not have to improve much to go close in the Spreadex Sports Best Odds On Sunderland Novice Stakes.

Well beaten on his debut, he was subsequently gelded and then fared much better when third of nine, beaten just over a length at Wolverhampton.

Ben Haslam's Tantalus could be worth a little interest in the talkSPORT Download The App Handicap.

At first glance a mark of 70 on handicap debut seems harsh, but there was distinct promise on his second outing when third of eight behind the 90-rated Batal Dubai.

Winner

On his final run he was no match for Marshman at Thirsk but the winner was second in the Gimcrack and ran well in the Middle Park.

Venetia Williams does well with her French imports and Jikala looks another likely type on paper ahead of the Go Racing With Vickers Bet Juvenile Maiden Hurdle at Hereford.

Denis O'Regan is at the track as he aims to tick off the final jumps course at which he is still to ride a winner.

His best chance could be the 11-year-old Skinfint in the Black Mountain Botanicals Handicap Chase.

IT'S TOUGH AT THE BOTTOM OF THE PREMIER LEAGUE

Ben: Every game has to be like a cup final

GODFREY CALLS ON TOFFEES TO FIGHT THEIR WAY UP THE TABLE

UP FOR A FIGHT: Godfrey is fit and raring to go

EVERTON defender Ben Godfrey says the Toffees must replicate the “fighting spirit” they showed against Manchester City in every match.

Frank Lampard’s men, who are a point above the Premier League relegation zone in 16th place, ended a run of three successive defeats by holding champions City to a 1-1 draw at the Etihad Stadium on New Year’s Eve.

But the Toffees are still struggling perilously close to the Premier League drop zone.

Godfrey said: “The point and performance against City can be massive for us.”

“Obviously the game the other day didn’t go our way and it was heart-breaking to lose so late on. But to have the character that we’ve shown, to come to a tough place and leave with a point is massive for us.”

“Consistency is key. We have to realise how important our character and hard work was, then learn from it, and do it again and again.

“It’s so important that we show the same fighting spirit in every match.”

The match on Saturday, in which he appeared to have something of a running battle with City striker Erling Haaland, saw the fit-again Godfrey make his first start since suffering a fractured fibula and damaged ankle ligaments in Everton’s opening game of the season against Chelsea on August 6.

Wonder

And he said: “It felt good to be back. It’s always hard when football gets taken away from you through injury – it was one of the toughest periods of my career.

“But I’m grateful for people around me to keep me going, and it’s all worth it in the end to be back out there with the boys.”

Asked if his level of performance had surprised him, the 24-year-old, who has two senior England caps, said: “No. After an injury like that I think people from the outside can maybe wonder what you’re going to come back like, but people don’t understand how many hours of hard work I’ve put in.

“And as I said, the people around me, the physios, my family, friends, whether that’s on-pitch, rehab in the gym, at home, everyone around me has put an unbelievable amount of hours in.

BATTLE: Haaland

So it’s difficult to say I’ve surprised myself because you get out what you put in.

“But it’s really enjoyable to be back. Health is wealth. I’m so appreciative of being back and out playing with the boys.”

Unhappy Everton fans are planning to stage a sit-in demonstration at Goodison Park next month to protest at their unhappiness with the “incompetent” management of the club.

Battle

Frank Lampard’s side ended a run of three successive Premier League defeats with a creditable draw at Manchester City on Saturday but five points from the last nine matches have left the Toffees just a point above the bottom three.

With the club facing the prospect of a second successive relegation battle, having avoided the drop in their penultimate game last season, a fan pressure group is taking action.

Last season the 27 Campaign (a reference to the number of years Everton had gone without a trophy) organised a number of protests and having rebranded as NSNOW (a name taken from the club’s motto Nil Satis Nisi Optimum) they are planning more demonstrations.

The protests are set to begin in the match against Arsenal on February 4, which is Everton’s first at home after the closure of the transfer window and is being televised live.

“We invite you to join us in expressing our discontent with the incompetent management of our beloved football club by the current owner and board of directors,” the group wrote in an open letter to fans.

“For too long our club has fell behind our competitors on and off the pitch.

“We believe that it is time for change and that only by holding those in power accountable can we hope to see our team thrive on the pitch once more.

“Therefore, we will be convening immediately after the final whistle to make our voices heard and demand better leadership for the future of our club.”

KLOPP: WE WERE KILLED BY CHAOS

JURGEN Klopp admitted Liverpool could not deal with Brentford's unique brand of "chaos" as they slipped to a damaging defeat.

Liverpool's poor defending cost them dearly against Brentford's canny set-pieces as Thomas Frank's side claimed another famous scalp with a 3-1 victory.

Ibrahima Konate scored an own goal from one corner and Yoane Wissa had two goals disallowed for offside from two more corners before putting the hosts 2-0 ahead before half-time with a fine header.

That was only after Darwin Nunez had added to his growing catalogue of wasted opportunities in front of goal, rounding David Raya only to see Ben Mee recover to make a goal-line clearance.

Alex Oxlade-Chamberlain pulled one back after the break, but Bryan Mbeumo left Konate in a heap to fire in the third and finish Liverpool off.

It was a case of no Ivan Toney, no problem for Brentford as Liverpool went the same way as Manchester United and Manchester City this season.

They have now dropped 23 points so far this season – one more than they did all last term.

Klopp, who substituted key defender Virgil van Dijk at half-time, said: "Brentford create chaos with set-pieces."

"When I say they stretch the

By ANDY MILLOM

rules, they do, in offensive set-pieces.

"Don't get me wrong, it's smart, but they do. If you could single out all the situations you would find five fouls but because it's so chaotic no one sees it in the end."

"So that's what they do and it's really good. You know before the game how strong they are from corners. The game got decided by the second which was our fault."

"We got away with an offside. That's all OK, and then we are not awake, they cross and score the second that decided the game."

"The third goal should not have been allowed but we should have played better."

Realistic

Brentford are now unbeaten in their last six matches and climbed up to seventh.

Boss Frank said: "These players don't surprise me but they always impress me. It shouldn't in a way be possible for Brentford to beat Man City, draw with Tottenham, beat West Ham away and beat Liverpool at home, but we did it."

Asked about a possible push for a European place, Frank added: "I hope the fans dream big, and the players, but on the flip side we are very realistic."

"This is a relentless league. Injuries to key players and we could struggle a bit. For us today it's 100 per cent my rule of 24 hours. We will celebrate, I will have a glass of wine, but then in 24 hours focus on the next game."

Frank revealed Toney was close to being on the bench despite being stretchered off at West Ham three days earlier. The 13-goal striker should be fit to face the Hammers in the FA Cup on Saturday.

EMMA JUST WANTS TO STAY FIT

EMMA Raducanu has made staying injury free and playing fearless tennis two of her big goals for 2023.

The former US Open champion has not played a competitive match since early October because of a wrist injury but is fit and ready to go again and will make her season debut against teenager Linda Fruhvirtova in Auckland on Tuesday.

The wrist problem, which kept her off court for two months, was the latest in a string of injury issues that hindered Raducanu in her first full season on the tour last year.

It did enable her, though,

TENNIS

to begin her pre-season training early and focus purely on the physical work that her struggles last year showed was lacking.

Raducanu has been working with Andy Murray's former physical trainer Jez Green, and she said: "Jez is really good, he's obviously so experienced, he's worked with some of the top players."

"He's been there through the journey with a lot of players who were young and then developed into top pros."

"It's amazing to have him in my corner and helping me out."

Raducanu showed good signs in a narrow loss to world number two Ons Jabeur in an exhibition in Abu Dhabi last month before continuing her training in Singapore and then heading to New Zealand.

Currently ranked 78 but with few points to defend, Raducanu, who also squeezed in receiving an MBE from the King and attending the World Cup final, is hoping 2023 can be the year when she establishes a stable base and begins climbing back to the top of the game.

She said of her off-season work: "I think right now, because I'm still trying to find my timing and groove and my tennis, it's a bit early to tell. But once I settle into that I think the physical side will definitely have made a difference because there's no way it can't help."

"But I'm also not ignorant in thinking two months is going to solve my entire physical condition, it's going to take more time, over a year or two to redevelop."

Raducanu is trialling another new coach in German Sebastian Sachs after Torben Beltz and Dmitry Tursunov both proved short-lived.

She said: "For 2023 my goal is to stay healthy for longer. I'm looking forward to working hard because I've got a better idea of what to expect now."

NO DEAL: Mac Allister

Mac staying at Seagulls blasts gaffer

BRIGHTON head coach Roberto De Zerbi believes it would suit both club and player if World Cup winner Alexis Mac Allister stays with the Seagulls for the remainder of the season.

Chief executive and deputy chairman Paul Barber has already accepted there will be interest in the 24-year-old Argentina midfielder but would not welcome any approaches in January.

Mac Allister has only just returned to Sussex after a fortnight in his homeland celebrating his nation's success in Qatar but, with the transfer window now open, speculation about his future is likely to ramp up.

De Zerbi has spoken with the player and wants him to concentrate on his current club for now.

"I am happy if he wants to stay with us until the end of the season and I think it is better for him," the Italian told a press conference.

"For us, for sure, but also for him because in this moment changing team in January can be a problem for him. For us, but also for him."

De Zerbi has transfer plans of his own, having arrived at the club to replace Graham Potter in September.

"We can't speak about the transfer market, but the club know my ideas," he added.

Mac Allister's returned to the club's training ground to a joyous welcome from staff and team-mates.

He joined the squad for his first session back but De Zerbi has not yet decided whether to throw the former Argentinos Juniors midfielder straight back into Premier League action.

"Mentally, for sure Alexis can play," he said.

"Physically, I'm not sure but we will see tomorrow morning."

Brighton lost 4-2 at home to Premier League leaders Arsenal on Saturday but, despite the defeat, De Zerbi was not downhearted.

"We played well against Arsenal but we needed a bit of luck and we didn't get that."

"They are a great team," he said.

"I was satisfied with the performance and attitude against Arsenal and I'm positive for the next games. We have to start strongly."

"The table is still good for us but we are still in progress. We can still improve a lot."

CONTE'S NOT UP FOR IT

Italian says Tottenham lack quality to challenge for Champions League place

TOTTENHAM manager Antonio Conte says his squad is not strong enough to fight on multiple fronts.

By PAUL THOMAS

Spurs suffered a humbling 2-0 defeat at home to Aston Villa on New Year's Day and have slipped out of the top four following their inconsistent form.

After a strong start to the new campaign, Tottenham have now only won four times in all competitions since October 19.

Attacking duo Dejan Kulusevski and Richarlison were absent again for Sunday's loss, having also missed a large chunk of football before the World Cup.

While Son Heung-min's struggles continued as he looked a shadow of the player that has terrorised Premier League defences.

Conte guided Tottenham into the Champions League last season, but was left with limited options up front for this most recent defeat and admits he sensed this situation could be on the horizon.

"Last season we made a miracle, I continue to repeat," he said.

"It happened why? Because we played only one competition, we played with 12 to 13 players and they didn't have injuries in the last 15 games and we played with the best players every game because, I repeat, we played only the league."

"The situation is clear and I think you can see our situation from the start of the season."

"We had Bryan Gil, who played a good game but he's a young player and you need to give young players time to become stronger physically. I'm pleased from what I've seen from him in the game."

"Then there is (Harry) Kane, Son, Richarlison and Kulusevski. When it happened that two of these (are injured), and this season it happened a few times with Richarlison and Kulusevski, you are in lots of trouble."

"Also Sonny has to continue to improve and it becomes difficult this situation, because if you ask me about the central defenders, they played a good game, the two midfielders played a good game and then we struggled a bit up front because we found a team defending really deep."

Injury

"If you have a solution on the bench to change the game, it's easier because you change the cards during the game."

Richarlison will miss Wednesday's trip to Crystal Palace and is still weeks away from returning after a hamstring injury and Kulusevski's minor muscle problem will be assessed before the Selhurst Park clash.

Yves Bissouma will be absent due to a one-match suspension after he received his fifth yellow card in the defeat by Villa.

World Cup winner Emiliano Martinez watched Villa's victory from the bench, with boss Unai Emery revealing it was always his desire for Robin Olsen to continue in goal at Tottenham.

Emery said: "It was our plan. We prepared first Martinez to rest some days after the World Cup."

"The days we prepared before he went there and with Robin, we are working and trying to give him confidence."

"Our plan is to carry on with Martinez. He will train with us Monday and Tuesday and he will be closer to play with us, but after this match we can believe in Robin."

Conte's comments have sparked the rumour mill with talk that former manager Mauricio Pochettino could be on his way back to the club. It's not clear that the Argentinian would relish working with chairman Daniel Levy again given he sacked him in 2019.

That was despite a five-year spell that took Spurs to the Champions League final.

But Poch is clearly missing life in the Premier League. He said: "I miss the Premier League. Why not return to manage in England?"

Successful

"We are open. I love England, I love living in London and Barcelona. And of course if that possibility to return appears for sure we will consider taking it.

For me, it was an amazing journey, amazing time at Tottenham. I still feel that it's my club, my place.

"I think when you really feel with the commitment and when you feel the people give everything to try to be successful, and they treat you really, really good how they treat us, it's impossible to forget that.

"That is why I think Tottenham is always going to be a special club for me."

While many Spurs fans would welcome the return of Poch, there could be some movement in the January window to keep Conte at the club.

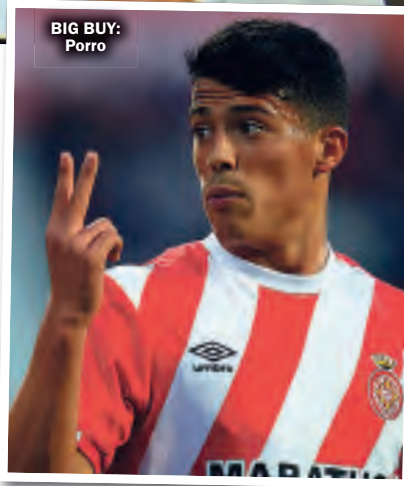

Reports in Portugal suggest Pedro Porro is close to signing from Sporting Lisbon.

The right wing-back was a key summer target for Conte and the 23-year-old is said to have been in talks with Tottenham.

The Spaniard would cost in the region of £35m, with Sporting manager Ruben Amorim resigned to losing him.

Porro played in both Champions League ties against Tottenham this season after moving to Portugal from Manchester City.

Reds boss Ten Hag refuses to buy his way to top-four finish

By JOHN ANTHONY

ERIK ten Hag insists Manchester United will not burn through cash to sign a new striker.

The Old Trafford chief wants value for money for any January reinforcements.

Ten Hag confirmed last month he wanted to sign a striker after Cristiano Ronaldo's exit but, having seen Cody Gakpo move to Liverpool, vowed United will not waste their funds on players who do not improve the team.

"You need one who can have an impact otherwise you are just burning money, you don't strengthen the squad and it doesn't help you," he said.

"We have a good team when all are available.

"We have a number nine, Anthony

UNITED No9: Martial

Martial, and I'm really happy with his performances across many games this season.

"He has had a really good impact. If you see his minutes and the impact he has had it's been huge."

But the United boss admitted he is hesitant to recall Amad Diallo from his loan at Sunderland to boost his forward options.

The 20-year-old has bagged six goals in 12 Championship starts for the Black Cats.

"We consider everything. I have a little reservation because I don't want to stop the process, he is making good progress there," said Ten Hag.

"When we decide he needs to come back he has to be a player who can compete for the starting 11 or at a minimum of coming on for a lot of games to have an impact."
